

Children Choir "Preobrajenie" ("Transfiguration") was founded in 1961. The founder of the studio was Liana Barteneeva –Teneta.

During these years the choir became one of the leading collectives in the positions among the choirs in the system of supplementary education.

Hundreds of pupils completed education in the studio and many of them became professional musicians and teachers of music.

At present the studio is headed by Honored worker of Culture Michael Savkin. He leads the studio since 1985 and before this time he worked as a teacher of the studio since 1978. Thanks to M.Slavkin the "Preobrajenie" became well known in musician spheres in Russia and abroad. In 1997 the studio got the status of Russia Union of Composers, because it works a lot with modern composers. M.Slavkin is often invited in the jury of international contests and as a conductor of composed choirs.

Since the middle of 80th the number of pupils of the studio achieved 200 persons. Since 1999 the choir is based at Moscow school #1360.

The Studio consists of five choirs:
